

BAD DRAINAGE IS BLAMED FOR FLOODING ON BUFORD AVENUE

Improper drainage under the Reading Railroad tracks on Buford Ave. is the cause of flood conditions adjacent to the Glenn L. Bream garage, Councilman John Millard quoted Robert E. Elsminger, state highway department engineer, as saying at a meeting and inspection of the location by the Sewer Committee and Mr. Elsminger recently. His report was made at the July meeting of borough council Monday night in the fire engine house.

Councilman Millard said a letter had been sent to the Reading Co. asking their cooperation in the installation of a new storm sewer and elimination of the causes of the flood conditions during heavy rains, but no reply had yet been received.

Flood conditions at Chambersburg St. and Washington St. were also discussed, but without any action being taken, it was agreed verbally that the Buford Ave. flood relief should come first.

Tanks Damaged Streets
Mr. Elsminger also went over the situation at the Epley garage corner, Mr. Millard reported, and suggested that a new storm sewer be laid by the borough under the sidewalk from S. Washington St. to S. Franklin St. Mr. Millard said that Mr. Elsminger agreed that the state would put in a new storm sewer across Chambersburg St. to connect with another storm sewer on the north side.

Considerable damage to several borough streets by National Guard armored tanks which participated in the Fourth of July parade was reported. The tank treads picked

FIREMEN NEED LARGER SUMS FOR EQUIPMENT

Members of the Adams County Firemen's Association discussed at length suggestions for augmenting the funds of their respective fire companies, including the raising of county aid through a new tax, at their quarterly meeting at Cashtown Monday night, but deferred action until the county convention in Bon-neauville on Labor Day.

Roger Myers, Fairfield county secretary, declared that many county fire companies are desperately in need of additional funds, if they are to maintain modern fire fighting equipment. He cited the increased value of real estate, and the many new types of hazards met by firemen in both homes, stores and factories with which, he said, old-fashioned equipment cannot cope.

Many fire companies, Myers said, are barely able to keep tires on their fire trucks and buy hose for them on money raised at their carnivals, with no funds left to purchase new trucks and new fire fighting aids, or modernize their fire houses.

To Seek Opinions

Association members decided to sound out, prior to the county convention, public opinion in their own communities on a county fire protection tax.

Representatives of the York Springs Fire Co. asked for an opinion on using money received from the two per cent foreign fire insurance fund for new equipment, and were informed that the law provides that this money is only for firemen's relief funds.

Myers said that even though a fire company accumulated $10,000 or $12,000 in its relief fund, the amount might be little enough in case a

SENATE PASSES LAND TRADE BILL

An amended version of the bill introduced in both houses of Congress early this year to pave the way for the Gettysburg Joint School District to secure title to about 23 acres of government land east of the Gettysburg High School building passed the Senate Monday and now goes to the House.

The bill in its present form would permit the government to trade 23 acres of land now in the Gettysburg Military Park to the joint school district for land of equal value which would become part of the park elsewhere.

Originally the bill had provided for sale of the land by the government with the money to be earmarked for the purchase of new lands for the Park Service. While the bill was in committee, the change was decided upon because of a ruling that the money secured by such a sale could not be earmarked but would have to go into the general treasury.

The 23-acre tract is being sought for school purposes and has been under consideration as a site for a new elementary school building.

Senators Martin and Duff sponsored the bill. Congressman S. Walter Stauffer introduced the bill in the House where it now awaits action.

Both Are Demonstrated

A 100-pound "Dyna-Fog" jet type fogger was demonstrated by representatives of the R. H. Russell Co., Charlotte, N. C., and a larger "Tifa" machine manufactured by the Todd Co., Long Island, by Fog, Inc., of Wyckoff, N. J.

Bids opened later at the fire engine house were "Dyna-Fog," $1,185 FOB Bedford, Ind., or $1,195 FOB Gettysburg, delivery in 12 days; Todd Insecticidal Fog Applicator, $1,846 delivered in seven days.

Members of council expressed themselves as more favorably impressed by the "Dyna-Fog" machine, but ran into a snag when it was discovered that this machine did not bear the Underwriters Laboratory seal, and therefore did not meet the specifications in the advertisement for bids. The latter specified that the fogging machine purchased by the borough should have the Underwriters seal.

Move To Reject Bids Fails

Borough Solicitor Eugene V. Bullett ruled that the borough council could not legally purchase the "Dyna-Fog" and council was then faced with the question of throwing out both bids and starting all over again, leaving out the Underwriters' specification in the new advertisement, or purchasing the other machine.

A motion was made by Councilman George D. March to reject the bids, but it was not seconded. Motion to purchase the Todd machine was then made by Councilman John Fox and seconded by Councilman John Millard.

Mr. March in moving to reject the bids and re-advertise, declared that the jet-type of machine "must be all right," since so many large corporations and municipalities are using it.

Impressed By Safety Angle

The discussion revolved around two things, the report that a similar machine has "exploded" while in use in Nassau County, N. Y., critically burning the operator, and the fact that Major Russell W. Gies, sanitary engineer of the state health department, did not recommend this machine.

Councilmen, in the final analysis, held the safety of borough employees higher than what they said appeared to be more effective operation, and a lower price for a smaller, more easily moved machine.

Councilman Fox in moving to buy the Todd machine, said he was making the motion with the safety angle in mind, and his motion was seconded on the same basis by Councilman Millard.

To Buy Trailer

The representative of the "Dyna-Fog" machine admitted his fogger did not have the seal of approval for use with an oil base, as will be used here. The other machine had the seal affixed to it. The jet machine representative included in his bid that he

Red Chinese Hurl 6,000 Men Against Weary Allies

SEOUL (AP)—Chinese Communists intensified day-long assaults on two Allied positions in Western Korea tonight as they hurled some 6,000 men in a fanatical attack against weary American and South Korean defenders.

In what front line officers said was possibly the forerunner of full division attacks, the Reds hurled about 3,000 men each against Pork Chop Hill and Arrowhead Ridge, five miles to the Southwest.

Earlier today, infantrymen of the U. S. Seventh Division on Pork Chop and ROK Second Division troops on Arrowhead slammed back repeated attacks of some 3,000 Chinese.

Suicidal Assaults

The later attacks—described by front line officers as suicidal assaults—pushed the Americans and South Koreans back momentarily north of Yoncheon.

Snapping four days of rainy silence along the water-soaked battlefield, the Red assault on Pork Chop and Arrowhead opened late last night with a thunderous Communist artillery and mortar barrage.

Since then both sides—but mainly the Reds—have committed more and more troops.

Battalion Blown To Bits

Pork Chop Hill took the brunt of the early Red attacks. It was the first big Red assault on an American held position in nearly three weeks.

The Reds fired some 15,000 rounds of artillery and mortars on Pork Chop while slamming 8,500 rounds at Arrowhead before launching the assaults.

Once the charges started, Allied artillery hit waves of Chinese sloshing up the muddy slopes in repeated attempts to gain a foothold.

One Red battalion—500-700 men—was caught in the open 900 yards from Arrowhead and blown to pieces with an intense barrage of Allied rockets and artillery.

Donald Murphy, Cumberland County coordinator and assistant state training director, urged strongly that all proposed ground observer posts be fully manned and issued a call for volunteers, after stressing the importance of the spotter posts. He said there are several "blind" spots in Adams County.

Movies were shown of the last atomic bomb tests and of the Ogontz training courses. The association voted to send Mr. Murren to the state fire school at Lewistown in August and each county fire company was urged to send at least one member to the school. Secretary Myers asked that companies notify him or Mr. Murren of those going to the school. Fire companies were also urged to send their checks for the semi-annual inspections of their short wave radio equipment to the secretary.

The next regular meeting after the Bonneville convention will be held at Centennial October 12.

HOUSE GOP TO CAUCUS AGAIN ON TAX ISSUE; 1ST FILIBUSTER

HARRISBURG (P)—The House

Republican leadership today called for another show of hands on Gov. John S. Fine's 130 million dollar tax package, featuring a 2 per cent automobile title transfer levy.

"We hope to have a full turnout at our caucus today," Rep. Albert W. Johnson, GOP House floor leader, said. "It should give us a positive indication of where we stand on the governor's program."

It was just a week ago that 40 House Republicans turned down the proposed levy on the sale of new and used automobiles, trucks and buses. At that time, 18 members of the 109-vote GOP caucus were absent.

Johnson refused, however, to be optimistic on the outlook for the package devised by the governor in cooperation with Republican and Democratic legislative leaders.

"I'm hopeful that something will be done ultimately to pass the 1 per cent sales tax," he said. "That's the only real way to balance the budget."

The House has been tied in knots since January on what to do about plugging a 118 million dollar hole in the Commonwealth's $1,400,000,000 budget.

Although the Senate has been marking time on taxes awaiting a program from the House, the GOP leadership in the upper branch tightened its hand last night for an eventual showdown on taxes.

The leadership obtained from the 32-member Senate GOP bloc permission to invoke the unit rule on all Republican policy legislation, including taxes.

In effect, the rule requires that when a majority of the bloc supports an issue, all members must vote for it on the floor.

A previous unit rule went out the window during the 1951 Legislature when 11 Republican senators held out against passing the one-half of 1 per cent income tax. The measure eventually died in committee during the year-long tax stalemate.

The unit rule, however, has been effective this year in the 98-vote House Democratic bloc which remained steadfastly—under the rule—against the sales tax.

In the first filibuster of the 1953 session, Senate Democrats fought into the early morning hours to seek defeat of Republican-backed legislation to exempt machinery from real estate taxation in third to eighth class counties.

The 4-hour talkathon culminated in passage of the measure along party lines, 28-19.

SEOUL (P)—Allied planes stayed on the ground Monday and battlefront action was limited to brief patrol skirmishes as rainstorms lashed Korea from one end to the other.

Up to 3½ inches of rain has soaked this war-torn Peninsula since early Sunday from storms that swept in from the China Sea. The Fifth Air Force said the downpour would continue another 24 hours.

YOU'VE NEVER KNOWN A RIDE EXACTLY LIKE THIS!

Chances are, you've known nothing but the cradled, swaying ride of cars whose design still reflects yesterday. Then, sir, please try a Lincoln just for the new experience. A new ride awaits you that combines the cushioned prowl of a great limousine with the catlike maneuverability of a sports car.

First of all there's an exclusive feature called ball-joint front suspension. This enables you to corner with incredible ease. Coupled with Lincoln's power steering and power brakes, it gives you the ultimate in control. And you're in charge of the magnificent new 205-horsepower V-8 engine—the same engine which swept the first four places among stock cars in the Mexican Pan-American Race.

In short, the car deliberately designed for modern living is also wonderfully powered for modern driving. We're ready whenever you are to take the ride. Why not try a Lincoln tomorrow?

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Celebration of the 40th Anniversary of Battle of Gettysburg: The mingling together of the ex-Union and Confederate soldiers was indeed an impressive sight. It was quite a different sight from that of July '63.

Wednesday was the opening day and the first event was the dedication of the statue of John Burns. The dedications brought quite a number of distinguished persons here. Governor Pennypacker arrived on the 1:55 over the Reading road, immediately after which Chief Marshal Hon. Theodore McAllister, assisted by Dr. Henry Stewart, formed the procession.

On reaching the stand, the Eighth Regiment Band rendered several selections. Brig. General J. P. Taylor, President of the Pennsylvania Monument Commission, and Governor Pennypacker made a few remarks. The statue was unveiled by Miss Virginia O'Neal. Rev. Dr. E. J. Wolf of the Seminary gave the address.

Wednesday evening strangers and citizens turned out in masses to listen to the "Girls of '63," who sang patriotic songs when Buford's men passed through the town, and also to enjoy the band concert. W. C. Sheely, Esq., made a short address.

Samuel M. Bushman assisted these patriotic women to sing in '63 and was also on the platform. John E. Pizer presided at the organ.

Only 16 ladies were left to repeat the songs. They were: Miss Susie M. Myers, Miss Alice C. Powers, Miss Winnie Weirick, Miss Carrie Young, Miss Dora Flemming, Mrs. Eliza Martin Ziegler, Mrs. Eliza Ziegler Miller, Mrs. Theresa Warner Slossaker, Mrs. Maria Warner Gintline, Mrs. Jennie Myers Tawney, Mrs. Sallie Myers Stewart, Mrs. Anna Garlach Kitzmiller, Mrs. Amanda Reinacker Ruff, Mrs. Mary McClellan Weaver, Mrs. Mary Culp Sheads and Mrs. Sophia Culp Tawney.

On Thursday, at 1 o'clock, a parade formed in Center Square and proceeded to the Rostrom in the National Cemetery. Battle-scarred veterans of both sides stood for several hours and listened to the remarks of Gen. Hufelopper and Howard and Maj. Robbins.

William McSherry, Esq., of this place, was master of ceremonies. A poem was read by Prof. Leo F. Stock.

The exercises at the Bloody Angle on Friday afternoon under the auspices of the North Carolina Society of Baltimore were quite interesting. The society carried about 300 excursionists from Baltimore and the South. At noon the excursionists were met at the depot by a reception committee composed of Senator D. P. McPherson, Hon. Wm. T. Ziegler, William McSherry and J. L. Williams, Esq., and Messrs. Horatio T. Weaver, Penrose Myers and Capt. James T. Long.

After the dinner the parade was formed under the marshaling of Hon. Theodore McAllister at Bloody Angle. Dr. Edward Geer, president of the society, presided.

A man in gray and a man in blue clasped hands and the latter said, "I thank God I did not kill you." Then the rebel yell broke forth. Silence followed. Such was the meeting of Col. Lane, Confederate, and Chas. H. McConnell, Federal, of Michigan, the man who shot him in the battle here.

Addresses were given by Col. Lane, Maj. Wm. M. Robbins and Dr. Henry E. Sheppard.

The Glorious Fourth Celebrated: The Fortieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg was concluded with an appropriate celebration of the Fourth of July. This day was set aside as Fireman's Day. The crowd was variously estimated at from three to four thousand people.

Our Fire Laddies were astir early to meet and entertain the visiting firemen. After companies from Charlestown, Va., Hanover and East Berlin arrived, John Bruce McPherson, Esq., delivered a short address of welcome in the Public Square. Charles Long, of Hanover, replied.

The parade at two o'clock moved over the principal streets of town. Dr. Henry Stewart was chief marshal.

THE RESTFUL SEASON

The banquet season's over. Now the witty chairman rests. From the task of introducing all the "most distinguished guests." And the waitresses and waiters, whom I call my favorite group. May take a brief vacation from the job of lading soup.

The banquet season's over. I shall eat no more of these: The orange in the fruit cup and the carrots mixed with peas. With the children I'll take dinner, knowing when dessert we reach. There is no one at the table who'll be asked to make a speech.

Oh, restful, glorious summer, when the banquet halls are dim. And no chairman raps for order and no one pays heed to him!

Now I'll take my evening supper at a table simply spread. Where the children do the talking—and then early go to bed.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE LIGHT OF IMAGINATION

People without imagination stand on the sidelines and watch those who have, march proudly down the street. Imagination is what has made this Western World the envy and admiration of the rest of the world—the old world.

Here we have pioneers—people with vision, courage, and the light of imagination that has taken them to discoveries that stand out as actual miracles of achievement. The great cooks are those who cook with imagination, as well as with pots, pans and materials. They create dishes that poets like to write about.

I get from a book by Robert Updegraff, entitled "Yours to Venture," an interesting statement. He wrote: "It is said upon good authority that more than half of the visitors of the Chicago Century of Progress in 1933-1934 were earning their living in industries which were not in existence in 1893 when the previous World's Fair was held in the same city."

Imagination is what has furnished the greatest boom in new industries, new inventions, and added progress. No sooner does a good thing appear than someone thinks out a better product. The old dies. The new appears. People who are alert never stand still. Their eyes are everywhere. No more opportunities? It's the people with imagination who create opportunities! Never will opportunities run out so long as there are people who keep imagination alive. And those who do are alive themselves! They do not beg to be excused. They say: "Stand aside. I have an idea." And people do stand aside for those with imagination, for they know if they don't they will be pushed aside!

Television, Cinema, Air Conditioning, Refrigeration—what opportunities there are cropping up everywhere! Ten years from now our automobiles of today may look like antiquities in comparison. Who can predict how far the light of imagination will throw its beams?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Fog"

NEW PROPOSAL

IS NEEDED IN

WAR STALEMATE

By SAM SUMMERLIN

SEOUL (AP)—An authoritative South Korean source said today efforts to win President Syngman Rhee over to an armistice are doomed to failure unless the U. S. produces "a new proposal satisfactory to Rhee."

President Eisenhower's truce envoy Walter S. Robertson did not meet with Rhee today—the third time in 12 days they have not conferred. The two may meet tomorrow.

The Rhee-Robertson talks are deadlocked as a result of Rhee's stubborn insistence that the U. S. agree to resume fighting if a post-armistice political conference fails to progress toward peaceful unification of Korea within three months.

Nothing Concrete
Robertson reportedly has told Rhee the U. S. never can meet such a demand.

A well-informed South Korean source said bluntly Tuesday that no progress toward an agreement can be expected unless Robertson produces a new proposal.

So far, he said, Rhee has rejected U. S. compromise plans because they offer him nothing concrete.

Robertson flew here June 25 in an effort to win South Korean cooperation in a truce negotiated—and all but signed—at Panmunjom.

He reportedly has offered Rhee a number of concessions in an attempt to win his support.

Sen. Wiley Says Rhee Is Playing With Global Dynamite

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) declared today South Korean President Syngman Rhee is "playing with global dynamite" and damaging the cause of world peace by balking efforts for a Korean truce.

Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a statement that Rhee's threat to carry on the fighting invites a possible military disaster which "could shatter the chances for world peace in our time."

"The brave South Korean boys who are holding two-thirds of the battle line today could by rash independent action—taking a suicidal offensive and severing themselves from the United Nations," Wiley declared.

Tempered With Pride
"A military disaster in Korea would mean a political disaster from which the U. N. might never recover. This could shatter the chances for world peace in our time. President Rhee has been playing with global dynamite."

Wiley's attack on Rhee—tempered by praise of the South Korean President's "fine record as a spokesman for free peoples"—contrasted sharply with an earlier statement by Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.).

Knowland, the acting GOP floor leader, said on a Sunday television program that the present breach might not have occurred if Rhee had been sufficiently consulted in advance by the Truman and Eisenhower administrations. Knowland said he had had no White House or State Department reaction to his statement. The White House declined comment.

"Illogical Extreme"
Wiley said he was speaking only for himself and not for the foreign relations committee "or for anyone else." But his words seemed to represent a growing vexation in the executive departments and Congress over Rhee's stubborn refusal to agree to armistice terms.

The Wisconsin senator accused Rhee of violating commitments to the United Nations Command, evidently referring to Rhee's release of 27,000 prisoners.

He added that Rhee is "a venerable patriot who has so courageously down through the years fought for his country" but said for himself and not for the foreign relations committee "or for anyone else." But his words seemed to represent a growing vexation in the executive departments and Congress over Rhee's stubborn refusal to agree to armistice terms.

DROUGHT AREA

GOVERNORS TO

MEET FRIDAY

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Governors of five drought-stricken states will meet in Amarillo, Tex., Friday to discuss what state governments might do to help farmers and livestock men fight the Southwestern disaster.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas announced the meeting yesterday as arguments over drought aid raged in Congress and among cattlemen. Sections of Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Kansas and New Mexico are in their fourth year of drought with pastures dried to dust and crops destroyed.

No rain was reported in Texas yesterday and temperatures climbed above 100 degrees over much of the state. At Shivers' request, Texas ministers had led their congregations Sunday in prayers for rain.

The Texas disaster relief director said 77 communities in the state have been forced to ration water. Director William L. McGill warned of a public health problem from water obtained from "questionable sources."

PARIS (AP)—The new government of Premier Joseph Laniel outlined Monday a series of new taxes, reductions of expenditures, and means for paying back advances from the Bank of France through which it hopes to get the nation's teetering economy back on a stable basis.

MARY LOU BOYD,
THOMAS M. WEGE
WED ON SUNDAY

Miss Mary Lou Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Boyd, Littlestown, and Thomas Marion Wege, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wege, Hanover, were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. John's Lutheran Church, near Littlestown. The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Jack Pippin, Washington, D. C., as matron of honor. Miss Darla Lemmon, Littlestown, a cousin of the bride, and Mrs. J. Donald Boyd, Westminster, sister-in-law of the bride, were bridesmaids. For his best man, the bridegroom chose his brother, Paul Wege, Hanover. J. Donald Boyd and R. Kenneth Boyd, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length white nylon net gown over satin, with two inserts of embroidered lace in the full skirt. The fitted bodice of nylon lace featured an illusion neck line, with an eyelet embroidered trim. The long sleeves ended in points over the hands. Her finger tip length veil of net fell from a cap of seed pearls. The bride carried a white Bible, a gift of the groom, which was topped with pink and white rosebuds. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls and an opal ring which was also a gift of the groom.

Special Music

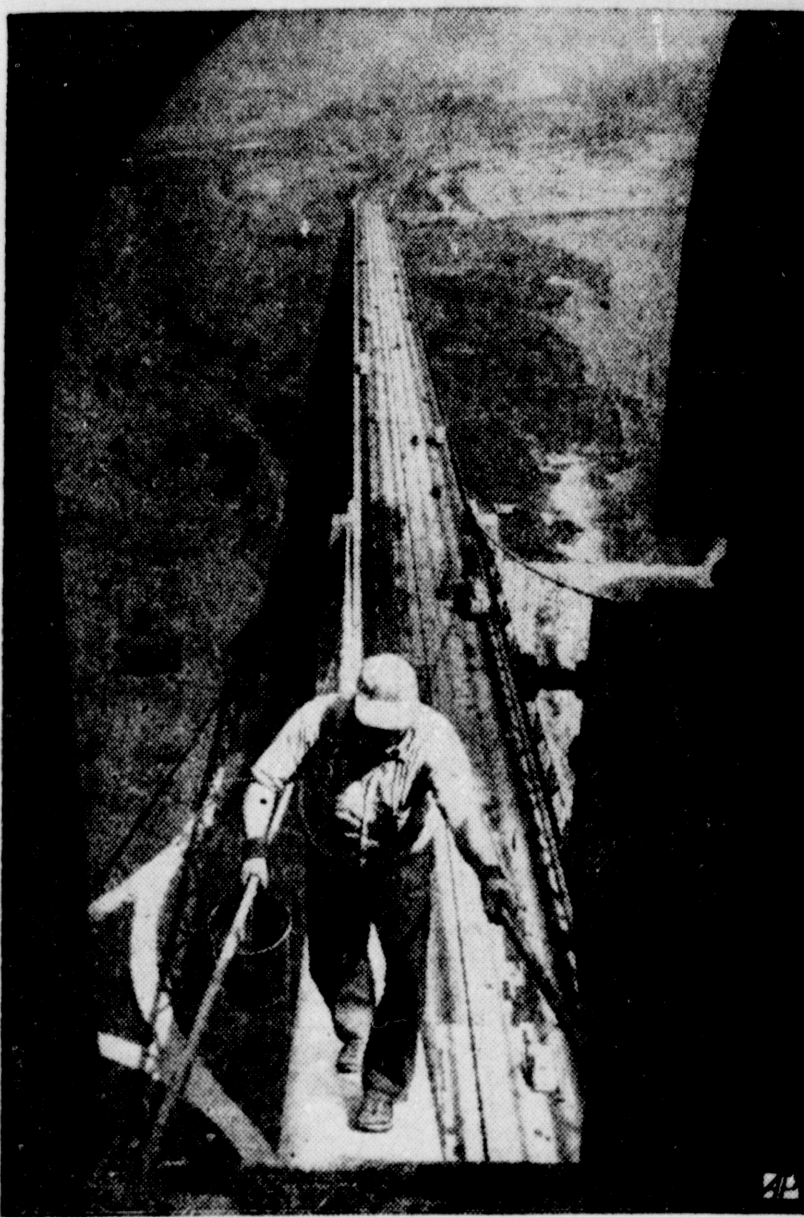

The matron of honor wore a strapless gown of ice blue net over taffeta, featuring tiers of net in the full skirt, a bolero jacket with mandarin collar. The bridesmaids' gowns were exact duplicates of the one worn by the matron of honor. The three attendants wore half hats with nose veils of net to match their gowns and they carried bouquets of blue and pink summer flowers.

The bride's mother was attired in navy blue with navy and white accessories. The groom's mother wore black with black and white accessories. Mrs. Jay D. Basehoar, church organist, presided at the console. She played "The Lord's Prayer" and served as accompanist for the vocalist, Mrs. Edgar E. Yealy, who sang "The Wedding Prayer," "Through the Years" and "With This Ring I Thee Wed," prior to the ceremony.

175 At Reception

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the social rooms of the church, with approximately 175 guests in attendance. White candles with wedding bells and summer flowers were used to decorate the tables and the centerpiece of the bride's table was a three-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. A miniature matron of honor was placed on the second tier of the cake and two bridesmaids on the third tier. The newlyweds received many gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Wege left on a week's wedding trip to the Poconos. Upon their return they will reside for the present at the home of the bride's parents.

PRINCESS IS GIVEN ADVICE

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret's reported romance with a handsome, divorced airman won editorial support Sunday from one newspaper and another gave the pretty princess a tip on what to do if sister Queen Elizabeth II won't approve the match.

The pretty princess's latest rumored romance, with Group Capt. Peter Woodbridge Townsend, drew comment as far away as Australia, where a leading Methodist churchman told his Melbourne congregation recent gossip and rumors about Margaret's activities were unfair and completely inhuman.

Following publication of reports about the romance between the 22-year-old princess and Townsend, a 38-year-old commoner, he was transferred last week from his job as an equerry with the royal household and assigned to Britain's embassy in Brussels as air attaché.

The Sunday Express accused the Church of England of blocking the marriage, in much the same manner it tried to break up the romance between Margaret's uncle, King Edward VIII, and his American-born divorcee, Wallis Simpson. The Express pointed out that Townsend had divorced his wife in 1952, charging her with misconduct, and had been awarded custody of their two sons. "He was not the guilty party," the paper asserted.

The Sunday Pictorial said that after she's 25—in August, 1955—Margaret can marry without her sister-sovereign's consent. Under the Royal Marriage Act, a member of the royal family over 25 can marry without the ruler's approval 12 months after giving the Privy Council notice of the intent to wed.

Find No Oak Wilt
Here In Aerial Check

HARRISBURG (AP)—Oak wilt, a disease that kills oak trees within a few weeks, is making an appearance in Bedford, Perry, Juniata and Fulton Counties.

State officials spotted the disease in a survey by airplane last week. A ground inspection to make certain that the disease is present has not been completed.

Officials also checked Adams, Franklin and Cumberland Counties from the air but did not sight any diseased areas.

In Bedford County they spotted 61 infected areas; in Perry, 17; Juniata, 16; and Fulton, 14. Those counties were infected last year.

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Federation of Trade Unions served notice Monday it will not permit even "voluntary" increases of workers' production quotas.

One of the major causes of the June 17 workers' revolt was the quota increase forced upon them by the Communist government. This attempt to squeeze more work out of the people—for the same wages—was abandoned in the government's frantic attempt to placate the workers after their uprising.

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Crown Prince Akihito of Japan, following the example 30 years of his father, Emperor Hirohito, exchanged gifts Monday with Pope Pius XII. The gifts were given in a private audience at the Vatican Palace.

SOLDIER HELD IN 2 DEATHS

SEOUL (AP)—An Air Force staff sergeant from Pennsylvania's Luzerne County was held today after authorities said he killed two G.I.'s and wounded two others by spraying a barracks room with a carbine in a drunken stupor.

An Air Force spokesman said Staff Sgt. Paul M. Redmond, of Shavertown, Pa., was being held at the Fifth Air Force correction center in Taegu.

A statement from Fifth Air Force headquarters said that Redmond became "belligerently intoxicated" last Friday at a Korean air base and at first threatened the other airmen with his weapon.

Then suddenly, the Air Force statement continued, he started shooting, firing about 30 rounds before he was subdued. Redmond was taken to the 25th Station Hospital at Taegu for observation before being transferred to the correction center. The specific charges against him were not announced.

The names of the killed and wounded were withheld pending notice of their next of kin.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Monday accepted the resignation of Dr. Robert L. Johnson as chief of the government's Overseas Information Service.

In a letter to Eisenhower dated July 3, Johnson—whose agency has been under fire in connection with the "book burning" controversy—said he was stepping aside because "two months ago my doctors advised me that the strains of this post were proving too much for me."

ANOTHER BRITON ILL

LONDON (AP)—Harold MacMillan, mentioned as a possible replacement for ailing Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, entered a London hospital Monday suffering gall bladder trouble. This also was Eden's complaint.

MacMillan, Minister of housing, in the Churchill government, goes into St. Thomas's Hospital for further observation. Eden, recuperating in the United States from a gall bladder operation, is expected back in public life in the late autumn.

TOKYO (AP)—The Army reported Monday two U. S. soldiers were slightly hurt in a beer hall fight among 30 G.I.'s which Japanese newspapers said was between white and Negro troops.

The Army said the fight involved "arguments concerning unit prestige."

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Patriot-News Co., publisher of Harrisburg's three newspapers, put out its first edition Monday from a completely new plant.

Staffs of the Patriot, Evening News and Sunday Patriot News completed a one week moving job last night in time to work on this morning's paper.

SENATE PASSES ADOPTION BILLS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The arena of controversy on child adoption shifted to the House today.

The Senate last night approved by an overwhelming 48-2 vote a long-stalled and much-amended measure to establish uniform child adoption procedures in Pennsylvania.

Despite the tug-of-war involving the rights of religious organizations in giving out children for adoption, the legislation passed without a word of debate. The only dissenting votes came from Sens. John J. McCreesh (D-Phila.) and LeRoy E. Chapman (R-Warren).

The House, now in control of the newly passed Senate bill, also is confronted by its own measure which would require that child care facilities be established in all counties of the Commonwealth.

The House Welfare Committee is expected to decide whether to make the state or individual counties bear the expense.

The child welfare package is backed by the governor's committee on children and youth and by other statewide welfare organizations.

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda charged Monday the United States is trying to persuade its allies that stirring up disorders in Communist countries is a more effective way of dealing with the Soviet Union than conducting peace talks. It used the words "stupid" and "impertinent" in describing such policy.
